

ALGEBRA II
DR. PAUL L. BAILEY

PRACTICE Exam 8
Sunday, January 23, 2022

Name:

The next examination will be a “Project”. The project is to study the first three examinations from the first semester, and be utterly certain that you understand absolutely everything on them. The project assessment, which occur on Thursday, January 27, 2022, will be of the same format as those examinations. Here are the instructions:

The examination contains five problems which are worth 20 points each, and two bonus problems worth an additional 20 points each, for a maximum of 100 points. The problems have been selected from the first three exams of the first semester.

The best way to ensure a good grade on this assessment is to study the first three exams, including the bonuses; if you do not understand anything, either ask in class, or come to tutoring on Wednesday after school. As it was stressed to you that you should keep your copy of any examination or quiz, you will still have your own copy of the first three exams.
